Transitional Sentencing Provisions: This table is divided into thirds based on the three relevant periods of Sentencing Provisions:

- Post-transitional provisions period
- Transitional provisions period
- Pre-transitional provisions period

These periods are separated by a row which shows when the transitional provisions were enacted, and another showing when they were repealed.

Glossary:

imp	imprisonment
susp	suspended
PG	plead guilty

			None of the jewellery has been recovered. Section 31 notice 1 and 2 A hired car was reported stolen and later found abandoned. A DNA profile taken from the car was matched to Burnes (ch 1). On another occasion Burnes threatened and intimidated the owner of a car into giving him the car's keys. He then drove off in the car (ch 19). On another occasion Burnes failed to appear in the Perth Magistrate's Court while remanded on bail (ch 9). On another occasion Burnes drove a stolen car to his former partner's house (ch 13). His former partner walked up to the car and, during a heated argument, Burnes pointed a firearm directly at her and said 'I'll fix you' (ch 12). On another occasion Burnes was seen to get into the stolen car the subject of ch 19. To prevent him from driving, police stopped their car behind and to the side of his car, their lights and siren activated. Burnes accelerated heavily and deliberately reversed in to the police car while two police officers were inside (ch 14). He failed to stop and drove away at speed (ch 17). Pursued by police, he drove on the incorrect side of the road and contravened traffic control signals. He mounted a kerb and drove over a median strip (ch 16). The finding that the firearm used to threaten the appellant's former partner was loaded made the offence more serious. This is because of the risk that a loaded firearm may somehow be discharged. It is evident ... his Honour regarded the 'fact' that the firearm was loaded justified the imposition of a more severe penalty. At [39] Although the firearm was not loaded, the victim was not to know whether the weapon was loaded or unloaded. The use of the unloaded weapon by the appellant was designed to terrify and doubtless had that effect. The offence was still serious.

The vehicle was later found abandoned and inside, was a prohibited electronic shock weapon, disguised as a torch (ch 18). On another occasion Burnes was bailed to appear in the District Court, he failed to do so (chs 10 & 11). On another occasion Burnes went to an apartment to meet an acquaintance. Police were at the apartment in order to execute a search warrant. Alerted to his presence in the lobby he was searched and found to be in poss of $4,700 in cash (ch 4) and a replica firearm (ch 5). A set of home-made knuckledusters (ch 6), nine 12 gauge shotgun cartridges and 51 .22 calibre revolver rounds (ch 7) were found in his car. When asked to provide his personal details he gave a false name and signed identification and bail documents using the false name (ch 1 of section 32 notice 1). On another occasion police searched Burnes' home and found a crossbow (ch 8) and a 22 calibre bolt-action repeater rifle (ch 2), loaded with six bullets (ch 3). The rifle had been modified and its serial numbers removed.

At [45] This is a highly unusual case. The very large sum stolen, and the impact which the loss of that money would have had ... on the elderly victims, meant that the offence was serious. At [48] The appellant's offending was brief and opportunistic. The decision to return the money meant that he would have obtained no actual benefit from the offence ... The appellant had not targeted elderly persons as victims because of their vulnerability, and the offending was not planned. At [51] ... it was not open to the sentencing judge to

Lengthy criminal history, including numerous convictions of violent offences. Offences committed six months after release from prison. Difficult and dysfunctional upbringing.	Ct 1: Act with intent to cause bodily harm. Ct 2: AOBH. Ct 3: Stealing. Lawrence and the co-offender, Winmar, were highly intoxicated. Ct 1 Lawrence and Winmar were in an aggressive mood and approached the victim's group. A stare-down ensued between Winmar and the victim. Winmar took up a boxing stance and the victim tried to calm the situation down. A fistfight broke out and each landed blows on the other. Lawrence punched the victim in the back of the head from behind, causing a cut to his chin. The victim fell to the ground and lapsed in and out of consciousness. Lawrence and Winmar kicked and stomped on the victim's upper body and head. The victim received 11 stitches to his chin and sustained a concussion, scalp haematoma, black eye, facial swelling and bruising and soreness to his upper body and neck area.	Ct 1: 5 yrs imp. Sentencing judge found appellant had no remorse, no insight into seriousness of his actions and no concern for victims.	Dismissed.
