Jonathan attempted to drag D from his vehicle, so D got out and sat down, being told he was not free to go. Meanwhile, James obtained two large knives from inside his home and returned carrying one in each hand. 			M was crying and was fearful of FWB who threatened to harm her or members of her family. Indictment 2 FWB and H (M's mother) had been in a de facto relationship for 13 yrs, but had separated approx. 6 mths earlier. The dep lib charge (ct 1) was a continuing offence. When visiting H, FWB produced a knife and threatened to kill her, telling her that he loved her, couldn't live without her and wanted her to suffer like she had made him suffer (ct 2). FWB tied H's wrists with cable ties, forced her into a car and drove her to the vicinity of a country town. FWB ordered H out of the vehicle, removed her clothing had sexual intercourse with her until he ejaculated (ct 3). FWB stabbed H in the chest (ct 4) and during the struggle she cut her finger on the knife. When H got out of the car FWB dragged her by the hair back into the car. FWB said he was taking her for medical assistance but H feared for her safety and jumped from the moving car and ran to a nearby house. As a result of being stabbed H suffered a 5cm wound that caused one of her lungs to collapse.	of the range of gravity, justifying the maximum penalty as a starting point". Offending occurred when M was alone and FWB sometimes engineered opportunities to be alone with her. The sentencing judge said that the offending against M had features of sex pen without consent; offending was not the result of grooming. FWB's offending against H "was a terrifying ordeal" and involved "criminality of the highest degree". FWB was at a moderate to high risk of future sexual offending and a moderate risk of future violent offending, most likely family violence.	filmed the offences the subject of cts 7, 8, 9 and 10. He had previously told M that once he had recorded the abuse he would stop offending against her. That was not the case... The appellant's offending against M's mother... would have adversely affected M in view of the threats to harm her family which the appellant made in the course of his offending against M. At [69] The appellant claimed to have little or no recollection of the offending and, accordingly, little weight could be given to any remorse. No victim empathy was apparent. At [70] the TES of 12 yrs' imp, especially in the context of the PG, was not broadly consistent with reasonably comparable cases and was not commensurate with the overall seriousness of the offending... The proper exercise of the sentencing discretion required lesser accumulation of the individual sentences.

The appellant and victim argued about the appellant's husband. The victim took from the appellant an alight methyl burner and told the appellant to leave the unit. The appellant stated "Just tell me where he is or I'm going to set you on fire". However, as the trial judge noted, the significance of that aspect of the case is somewhat diminished by the repeated threats made by Ms Dimitrovska towards Ms Vulin over the months, weeks and days which preceded the attack. Those threats suggest that Ms Dimitrovska may have contemplated some form of attack upon Ms Vulin, without necessarily contemplating its precise form. At [139] Although Ms Dimitrovska had no prior

Perhaps the only matters of any significance are the limited period of premeditation... and the lack of any prior conviction for violence. Those matters in combination justify some small reduction from the max penalty available – in the order of the reduction given by the trial judge when he imposed the sentence of 17 yrs imp. At [144]-[152] Discussion of comparable cases. At [153] ... the application of the principles introduced by the 2008 amendments to the Sentencing Act, and which were enunciated by this court in BLM to the
